IN MEMORIAM: GENE JOHNSON

By AMY Grace

Our neighbor, Gene Johnson, passed away on Saturday, May 20, after a valiant three-year struggle with esophageal cancer. One month shy of his 58th birthday, Gene died on a day he loved very well: Preakness in Baltimore.

Most of us knew Gene through our associations with his activist wife, Gilda Johnson, who had been his partner for nearly eighteen years of marriage. But he was always there behind the scenes cooking burgers at the community picnic, counting and stuffing newsletters, and supporting the neighborhood association's efforts to improve South Baltimore. Gene was also an accomplished volunteer activist on his own serving as a Past Master 32nd Degree Mason and as Secretary to the Baltimore City Board of Elections among many other activities.

As Gilda recalls Gene certain adjectives come easily to her mind: a very determined man with a sunny personality; always a positive thinker. Gene was a can-do kind of person who never took "no" as an answer. A 33 year veteran of the shipping industry including 10 years with COSCO

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

By Lori Hardesty

Life can be quite a roller coaster! At times, it's exhilarating and full of joy – at the peak, you wish you could freeze the moment. Other times, you feel like things are spiraling out of control – just when you think things couldn't get worse, you take another loopy-loop. The last few weeks have brought both challenges and celebrations for me directly, but also for others neighbors.

The fact that we live in the same community physically brings us together. Had it not been for living in South Baltimore for the last 4 years and being involved with SBIC, my husband and I might not have met the many great people we know today who care about their neighborhood. In addition, being small business owners within our community only enhances that experience, people who have special bonds with their pets.

Relationships can take time, trust, and is a two-way, give and take process. There can be some vulnerability and risk in getting to know new people, but the rewards of support, caring, and new experiences can be endless. I truly enjoy being caught in such a great web of support, and amazed by the fascinating people I call both friends and neighbors who weave it every day!

SANITATION & BEAUTIFICATION

By Amy Mutch

Monthly Cleanup!! Come join the effort on Saturday, June 10th between the hours of 8am-12noon to rid South Baltimore of accumulated trash!! We will meet at the corner of Light and Heath Streets where the dumpster is located. We sweep, shovel the curbside and collect bulk trash that pollutes our streets and alleyways. The sitting park on Heath Street will also receive some attention. Many of you have benefited from the efforts of a small group of dedicated volunteers. The best way to demonstrate appreciation is to join us on Saturday morning. Cleaning the neighborhood benefits ALL residents of our community.

Weeds!! Yes it's that time of year when all life-form blossoms. Weeds growing around foundations and sidewalks give the impression of neglect. Pulling up a weed before it establishes a strong root system is the best defense. Pouring salt on a weed after a rainfall will ease removal.

Last but certainly not least!! The Examiner newspaper is littering our streets and calling attention to absent homeowners. I met with Michael Barnum, VP of Circulation for The Examiner, regarding the problems from doorstep delivery. Litter and safety concerns regarding absentee homeownership were discussed and one solution offered is to replace The Examiner from the previous day during routine delivery for a few days and then stop all delivery to that address unless a request is made. He also offered to help clean our streets during our monthly cleanups. Until this resolution is firmly in place, please collect the newspaper if it is being delivered to your doorstep and/or neglected on your neighbors stoop.

As the new President of SBIC, I look forward to this ride with both excitement and anticipation. Many neat opportunities and challenges lie ahead. However, I know that I will not nor cannot do it alone within a vacuum. Thanks to Marimargaret, Sharron, Marie, Amy & Patrick, Cheryl, Steve, and Julie for their continued hard work and determination in their respective areas/committees. Talk about some amazing people!

I welcome Ugur Erickson, our new Social Chair, as well as the new Treasurer (although not new to SBIC), Erika Haws. Good luck (but not good-bye) to former President Shani Ahearn and husband Aaron who are on their way to San Francisco. "Congratulations" on beginning a new chapter in your lives! Shani, your passion and energy are inspirational - so is your amazing knack for gardening, love of cats, and sense of cuisine!

There are so many people who touch my life in so many ways that make this position, but more importantly, being a neighbor worth it every day. Thank you!

Stoop Night

Now that Stoop Night has been reintroduced into our Spring and Summer schedules, let's keep the communication between neighbors rolling!

Our goal once again is to get as many neighbors out of their houses and onto their front steps starting at 7 pm. We as a community can help deter CRIME and DRUG ACTIVITY from our streets. What a fantastic time to exchange ideas about ways to improve our neighborhood. It is also a great opportunity to meet neighbors and talk to friends!

This is how it works: When the Baltimore Oriole's are OFF, Stoop Night is ON. It's that easy!

Here is the Stoop Night schedule for June and July:

Monday, June 19th	Monday, June 26th	Monday, July 10th
Wednesday, July 12th	Thursday, July 20th	Monday, July 24th

SCHOOL 33 UPDATE

School 33 Art Center, your neighborhood contemporary visual art center located at 1427 Light Street, is pleased to announce the renovation of its building. The Center, which contains exhibition and artist studio space, in addition to classrooms for its art education program, hasn't received a facelift since 1979. The renovation will bring the addition of an elevator to make the building more handicap accessible, expansion of the gallery, and general repair and recondition of the classrooms and artist studios, as well as a revamped heating and air conditioning system.

Major renovation and construction will begin August 1 and may impact those located at Clement, Birkhead, and Light streets. Neighbors can expect typical construction equipment conducive to demolition, construction, and repair. In addition, children should be forewarned to be extra cautious during this time. Renovation is expected to be completed by January.

For more information, please contact School 33 Art Center at 410-396-4641 or by email at school33@promotionandarts.com.

"Results That Speak For Themselves"

North America, his current employer, Gene worked as General Manager of the Baltimore office and Regional Sales Manager for states in the mid-Atlantic region. In 2004 he was selected as a recipient of COSCO's Sales Star Award for sales achievement. He was one of 50 honorees internationally and two based in the United States. A few weeks before his death, Gene's firm bestowed a lifetime achievement award upon him for his contributions to the company and his courage in dealing with his illness. He was still going to work at COSCO even nine days before his death. No wonder his many friends think of him as unstoppable.

Not easily discouraged by anything in life, Gene's relentless optimism and courage were especially evident as he accepted the cancer di-agnosis in 2003 saying to his doctor, "Tell me what we have to do and I'll do it." Through radiation treatments, chemotherapy regimens, experimental drug therapy, and all of the attendant pain and misery associated with the treatments, Gene never complained, not even on his last day of life.

He was a devoted father to his beloved eleven year old daughter, CeCe, and a devoted son-in-law to Gilda's mother, Carlyn Johnson. There was simply nothing that anyone would ask Gene to do that he would not do. His generosity was limitless. He provided for his family; he wrote his own memorial service; he even pre-arranged for flowers on the altar at Christ Church for Sunday, May 28th – as a gift to Gilda to celebrate their 18th wedding anniversary.

A memorial service was held on Friday, May 26, at Christ Church.
